WHEREAS: In March of 2021, Governor Baker signed the Climate Act of 2021, passed by the Massachusetts State Legislature after more than a year of public debate and advocacy and discussion, which, among other parts of the law, directed the State Department of Energy Resources to develop a net zero stretch code to update the current Stretch Energy Code for adoption by municipalities in the Commonwealth; and

COUNCILLOR ZONDERVAN

MAYOR SIDDIQUI

COUNCILLOR SIMMONS

WHEREAS: Municipalities are prohibited from expanding the definition of “Dependent” provided in G.L. c. 32B, §2 for the purposes of extending group insurance benefits to domestic partners of municipal employees or assisting any municipal employees with surrogacy services; and

WHEREAS: As part of recent updates to Cambridge’s Domestic Partnership Ordinance, the City Council would like to re-establish a policy of extending group insurance benefits to domestic partners of municipal employees, consistent with the intent of the city’s original ordinance that was adopted several years before Connors vs. Boston infamously prohibited the practice in 1999; and

WHEREAS: Policy Order 2022 #154 sponsored by Councillor Simmons called on the city to establish a fund designed to assist those City employees in same-sex marriages with paying for surrogacy services in instances where the City’s health insurance providers fail to provide the same coverage afforded to the City’s female employees and those in heterosexual marriages; and

WHEREAS: In CMA 2022 #213, the City responded that the City’s health insurance providers do not offer coverage for surrogacy services to anybody as of November 2022, but that Connors vs Boston would prevent municipal employees from benefiting from such coverage regardless, because “surrogacy services are health care services provided to a third party, and not to an employee or their dependent”; and

WHEREAS: Cambridge’s inability to offer these services under state law has been very challenging for a number of municipal employees, disproportionately impacting members of the LGBTQ+ community; and

WHEREAS: The City Council urges Cambridge’s Legislative Delegation to advance this home rule petition, which would allow the City to create a more equitable workplace and better meet the healthcare needs of all city employees; now therefore be it

ORDERED: That the attached home rule petition expanding the definition of Dependent for the purposes of municipal employee benefits be sent to the entire state legislative delegation for immediate adoption.

An Act expanding the definition of Dependent for the purposes of municipal employee benefits as to the city of Cambridge
