Communications: To the City Government of Cambridge, MA, from Peter Valentine 37 Brookline St.
8/2/2013

Restaurants play a vital therapeutic role in the mental health and well being of society.
They should be guarded and protected as treasures.

Restaurants are extremely complex operations with all kinds of regulations to watch out for.

For a government to put extreme pressure on restaurant owners as in this recent issue on increasing the cost of licenses, would reveal that government to be a self centered predator on the lives of the people and those who work so hard to establish places where the people can rest and renew their lives.
